This fair is your opportunity to explore where a career in education could take you. If you are thinking about teaching you can use the fair to compare and contrast the different training routes open to you, to explore which might best suit you, to learn how to maximise your chances of success and gain insights into the reality of life in the classroom.

Not convinced the classroom is for you? Diverse opportunities exist in the wider education sector from consultancy, publishing, policy or administration to tutoring, or working with an educational charity and many of these areas are represented at the fair.

Talks at the fair

- Routes into Teaching, 15.00
  This session will cover everything you need to know about the various routes into teaching including School Direct, the PGCE, Teach First and the HMC Teacher Training route for independent schools. Not to be missed if you’re weighing up your options for teacher training routes or due to be making an application.

- Education Policy Careers, 17.45
  Are you interested in tackling pressing questions facing our education system? Do you want to review government policies to identify opportunities for innovation? Have you wondered how other global education structures compare? If ‘yes’ then a career in education policy may be for you but how do you get a job as an education policy analyst and where can you work? This panel session includes a range of professionals working in various areas of education policy with the aim of helping you to navigate this popular line of work. There will be plenty of time for questions and discussion so come prepared with things you want to ask our experts.

Top tips

- Read booklet entries before you speak to employers. Plan some questions to ask them.
- Be keen and attentive – first impressions count!
- Talk to as many people as you can.
- Remember to record who you spoke to and key points of your conversations.
INSIGHT INTO TEACHING

WHO WE ARE: Oxfordshire Teacher Training is an exceptional provider of high quality Initial Teacher Training programmes in secondary, primary and special education. The Cherwell School is the ‘lead school’ (the name presented on UCAS and where we are based) and The Cherwell OTSA SCITT is the name of the accrediting body. Through the Oxfordshire Teaching Schools Alliance (OTSA) we work with state-funded partner schools across Oxford and Oxfordshire and all of our programmes are designed and delivered by people who really understand what great teaching and learning are all about; highly successful teachers and leaders from our partner schools.

WHAT WE ARE LOOKING FOR: We are committed to recruiting and training passionate and determined individuals who will relish the challenges that life in schools brings and who will become outstanding teachers and leaders dedicated to improving the lives of the young people that they work with.

WHAT WE OFFER: We are dedicated to delivering the best possible ITT programmes and providing the best support for Associate Teachers (trainees) throughout their Initial Teacher Training programme and as they seek employment in their NQT year and career beyond.

We deliver Salaried School Direct and Non-salaried/ Tuition-fee School Direct programmes, all of which lead to Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and all our Associate Teachers have the option of adding a master’s level PGCE to their programme.

Harrow is a full-boarding school for boys aged 13 to 18. It was founded in 1572, under a royal charter from Queen Elizabeth I, by John Lyon, a local landowning farmer, whose original intention was to provide thirty poor boys of the parish with a classical education.

Today, the School’s 300 acres maintain a collegiate feel, our historical architecture complemented by modern buildings that meet our developing needs. About 820 boys aged between 13 and 18 attend the School, from across the UK and further afield. There are about 150 members of academic staff and over 500 members of support staff in a range of operational roles.

Every member of staff works to a single, unifying purpose: To prepare boys with diverse backgrounds and abilities for a life of learning, leadership, service and personal fulfilment. Our statement of purpose has Harrow boys at its heart and is borne out through our various areas of activity: teaching that helps boys achieve their best academically, pastoral care that matures them both emotionally and spiritually, and an extracurricular programme that develops their characters and interests.

Jacari is a student charity that provides free home tutoring to disadvantaged children age 4-16 who speak English as an additional language. Many of our children come from refugee and asylum-seeking families, and we have over 100 children on our waiting list.

Our tutors are students from Oxford University and Oxford Brookes who spend one hour a week giving one-to-one English tuition and help with homework. We offer our volunteer tutors a comprehensive teaching induction, alongside optional workshops to improve their awareness of EAL issues. Jacari offers an opportunity to get out of the bubble, connect with the wider community, and develop a truly rewarding relationship with a local child. It is excellent teaching experience, and we can offer a personal reference to students who complete at least 16 lessons with us.

Who Are We? Keystone Tutors is the leading tutoring and education company based in West London. Since being founded in 2007, Keystone has developed an outstanding reputation among parents, schools and tutors. We’re a friendly bunch with a great team spirit.

How are we different? Keystone is singular in its commitment to professionalise tutoring. Rather than having a loose body of tutors, we have pioneered the first professional tutoring contracts in the UK. We have attracted tutors who see tutoring as a career, and behave accordingly. They train regularly, always looking for ways to improve their craft; they have access to materials that Keystone has developed in-house; most importantly, they have a long-term, committed professional disposition.

What can we offer you? A chance to inspire, engage and support young people academically, in one-to-one and group based settings, within a fast-growing, innovative and ambitious education company.

What are the ‘nuts and bolts’? In exchange for a salary our Professional Tutors teach at least 50 hours per month, both online and face-to-face, over a 12 month period (600 hours per year).

What are the perks? Autonomy and flexibility in your work – our Professional Tutors are able to create and manage a flexible timetable that fits around their needs and other interests. Many of our most successful tutors have used this unique combination of freedom and security to publish their own work, engage in sustained volunteer work and even represent GB at triathlon.

Leigh Academies Trust has gone from strength to strength since its creation in 2008 and is now one of the country’s most successful multi-academy trusts. Currently comprising of 16 academies (7 secondaries, 8 primaries and 1 special) educating over 10,000 students, the Trust is developing four ‘clusters’ of academies: North West Kent, Medway, Central Kent and South East London. LAT also leads Kent and Medway Training, which successfully trains over 120 new teachers per year.

Our size and our location separate us from other multi-academy trusts; we are expanding at a gradual rate, being selective in our choice of schools, ensuring that the academies who join us can fully make use of our expertise, our leadership and our values. Our academies are close in proximity allowing us to share best practice in convenient and effective ways.

Leigh Academies Trust motto is as follows – ‘Shaping Lives, Transforming Communities’. We successfully continue to have a positive impact in our community, and will continue to do so with our planned expansion over the coming academic years.

Monarch Education works with schools across Warwickshire, Northamptonshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire to recruit their staff. Schools will approach us with requirements for a range of professionals to teach in classrooms on a temporary or long term basis. We work with undergraduates who are looking to get paid experience in schools, leading up to their application for initial teacher training and gaining entry on to a course. All of our undergraduates will work with a personal consultant who will help develop a profile of experiences that not only provides positive experiences but valuable knowledge that can strengthen an ITT application. We provide you with a handbook and help track your development. Our support programme also provides you with direct CPD which is teacher-training based. Get the edge – get into teaching with Monarch education.

The NCS vision is to provide outstanding A level education and examination results for able students in East London and beyond to enable them to progress to the most competitive universities in the UK, including Oxford and Cambridge and other prestigious universities worldwide. As a group of professionals we believe strongly in the importance of social mobility and through our work we are effecting positive change within our community. We have been judged ‘Outstanding’ by Ofsted in every category and our 2017 A level results of 88% A*/B and 99% A*/C mean we are one of the highest performing state A level providers in the country. In only our second year of A levels, 95% of students received offers from a Russell Group University, 9 of which were from Oxford or Cambridge, 1 student is studying at MIT and 39 offers were made for Medicine/Dentistry. Having forged a strategic partnership with UCL, colleagues at all levels have access to world class facilities, academics and cutting edge research.

As our Sixth Form grows we seek to recruit exceptional graduates to join us in September 2018. Over the two years, we would offer high quality mentoring and training all within a supportive and collaborative environment helping our trainee teachers achieve Qualified Teacher Status. We also offer a generous financial package that would be highly attractive to a prospective applicant who wished to use their strong subject knowledge to support very able students from disadvantaged backgrounds.

North London Collegiate School is a leading independent school for girls, based in central London but with acres of spacious green parkland for pupils to roam around in.

One of the top schools nationally for A-levels, GCSEs and the International Baccalaureate, our exam results speak for themselves, but these are one part of the broader journey to the next stage of the girls’ education. Teachers who are passionate about their subjects inspire pupils with a love of learning, and give each girl the confidence and self-belief to succeed in whatever she chooses to do. We staged 40 productions and concerts last year, and we run 30 annual overseas trips. We have partner schools in Zambia and Madagascar, as well as sister schools in Jeju, Korea, and Dubai. Three of our girls competed in the British Schoolgirls Races (for the second year) and returned overall champions.

It is not difficult to understand why the Good Schools Review concluded that “we can’t recall visiting another all-girls school and finding quite this kind of relaxed self-confidence”.

Notting Hill and Ealing High School (NHEHS) is an independent day school for girls aged 4 – 18 located in Ealing, London. Founded in 1873, the school has strong traditions and is a leader in education for girls, enjoying a reputation for academic excellence at both the Junior and Senior levels.

Our staff are dedicated to inspiring students with an imaginative and vibrant curriculum, to providing pastoral care, which allows girls to be themselves and develop strong friendships, and offering exceptional extra-curricular opportunities in which girls are encouraged to take the lead and have an outward-looking perspective. All those who know the School remark on its relaxed yet purposeful atmosphere, its strong sense of community, and the commitment of staff to providing students with a sense of opportunity and potential; as a result girls are confident yet grounded, independent yet supportive of each other.

The School is part of the Girls’ Day School Trust (GDST) and offers:
- the opportunity to become a qualified teacher through the School’s support programme
- you can become a qualified teacher within one year teaching highly motivated, talented pupils while being paid on our enhanced salary scheme
- the link with the GDST which provides a network of support via its 26 schools including training and promotion opportunities

We hope that you enjoy getting into teaching and that you will consider NHEHS the place to provide you with the training, support and opportunities to get your career off to the best start.

Future Academies is a family of two secondary and three primary schools in South Westminster and Shepherd’s Bush. We serve communities that are amongst the most deprived in the country but have the highest expectations of our students and what they can achieve. We are committed to providing them with a rigorous education in a well-disciplined but caring environment that will help them to compete on a level playing field with their more advantaged peers.

Our ITT professional training programme provides a robust and knowledge-rich approach to achieving QTS and a PGCE at an Ofsted ‘Outstanding’ SCITT, in the heart of London. The programme has been designed to allow graduates the opportunity to take responsibility for a small number of their own classes from the start of the academic year, whilst receiving high-quality mentoring and training. As the year progresses, you will be given the opportunity to increase the number of classes you are responsible for.

As a trainee teacher, you may be eligible for a government bursary of up to £30,000. In addition to this, we are able to offer exceptional candidates the Future Teach Scholarship which waives the training fee of £9,000 alongside providing a highly competitive bursary.

To apply, please submit a CV and covering letter outlining interest in the role and any previous experience working with children or young people.

Recruitment criteria: 2.1 or above. GCSE (C grade or above) in Maths, English and Science. Successful candidates will be required to undertake a DBS check, health check and Professional Skills Tests in numeracy and literacy.

Protocol Education is a specialist provider of classroom based staff to schools and academies in England. We provide our 4,000 clients with the full range of classroom based staff on both a temporary and permanent basis. Additionally, we provide teaching staff to international schools across the globe.

Each year over 11,000 teachers, teaching assistants, SEND specialists, early years, one-to-one tuition staff, and intervention specialists work through Protocol Education on either a full-time or part-time basis to help children meet their education goals. Each one is met face to face by one of our staff and checked to ensure that they meet the DfE safeguarding standards.

Our national network of nearly 50 branches gives us superb local coverage to meet the recruitment needs of schools, while our international offices located in Australia, New Zealand and Canada are able to bring some of the best teaching talent from around the world to the UK.

We provide rewarding career opportunities for our own staff within our branches and support teams, and develop team members through accredited internal training. Our values underpin our actions and act as a touchstone for everyone in the business:

- Integrity and respect
- Commitment and resilience
- Pride and energy
- Teamwork and fun

We have gained recognition within our industry through awards and accreditations. We have won the Recruiter Awards Best Temporary Agency Award twice in the last 10 years and hold the REC Audited Status, ISO 9001 and Investors in People accreditations.

Oxford Brookes University is widely regarded as a major contributor to the improvement of education and learning, locally and nationally. The School of Education is a focal point for lively, informed debate on education through its seminar and lecture programmes.

The Postgraduate Certificate in Education Primary programme is renowned for its high standard of teaching and has been rated as ‘outstanding’ (Grade1) by Ofsted. Our student body is diverse and comprised of those who are newly graduated and those seeking a career change.

The course prepares you to teach children in either the 3-7 or 5-11 age range, and includes an insight into the pedagogy of both age ranges. This one-year full time course provides you with the professional skills and knowledge required to become an effective classroom practitioner. On successful completion of the course you will be awarded with Qualified Teacher Status (QTS).

Schools Plus Oxford is a charity aiming to tackle educational inequality in the Oxford area. Despite Oxford being home to one of the world’s top universities, there are many disadvantaged schools in the area where pupils are struggling to get the top grades. Schools Plus places student volunteers in these schools where they tutor pupils one-on-one or in small groups. These projects are in a wide range of subjects, from helping young pupils learn to read to tutoring A Level students in science. Schools Plus is an excellent opportunity for current students to get hands-on experience in a school whilst also being of massive support to both teachers and pupils and making a difference! We run a one-day event in Hilary term where Oxford students teach classes to secondary school students. Our motto is “teach anything”: past classes have ranged from Game Theory to the language of the Time Lords to the political history of Hong Kong! If you’re considering teaching as a career path, giving a class at Splash is a great opportunity to practise crafting an engaging lesson and enthusing students about a topic that you’re passionate about. It also has the great advantage of not requiring too much of your time.

St. Olave’s Grammar School is a Church of England school in Orpington (London Borough of Bromley) and a multi-faith community where excellence is both celebrated and sought after, and where a broad focus on scholarship combined with cultural enrichment is underpinned by a strong set of values. Judged by Ofsted as ‘Outstanding’ in March 2014 and by SIAMS as ‘Outstanding’ in May 2017, St. Olave’s Grammar School in Orpington (London Borough of Bromley) enjoys a reputation as one of the finest state schools in the country with a broad focus on scholarship combined with cultural enrichment, within a supportive community.

Our outstanding record of academic excellence consistently showing around 95% of A level results at A*/B grades, places the school amongst the nation’s top 3 Grammar Schools. Over the last 6 years over 180 students have taken up Oxbridge places.

St. Olave’s only seeks to recruit top graduates who can inspire and challenge our students. We offer a route into teaching through the Schools Direct Training Programme (salaried). The initial teacher training we provide has consistently enabled graduates to gain qualified teacher status and entry into a truly rewarding profession.

If you grow up in a low-income community, your chances of future life success are limited. We want to change that. Teach First is a charity that works towards a day where every child has the education they are entitled to. We find and develop great people to become inspirational leaders in the classroom, in schools and across all sectors of the economy. Our trainees join our Leadership Development Programme. Through the programme, we support them to become qualified teachers, to gain a fully-funded Postgraduate Diploma in Education and Leadership and go on, if desired, to gain a Master’s. We also introduce them to some of the most influential organisations and experts in the professional world – a diverse range of connections who share our commitment to ending educational inequality and value the skills and experiences our participants gain.

INTERNSHIPS AND WORK EXPERIENCE: Our Insight programme is an opportunity for penultimate year students to experience a snapshot of our LDP, to develop employability skills and inspire young people studying Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths (STEM).

This is a two-week residential paid programme spending the first week in London training. This will prepare you for the second week, where you will be placed in one of our partner schools across England or Wales. There are 2 opportunities to take part in the Insight programme during March and June.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: To be eligible to teach on our programme you need a degree or A Levels in one of our eligible subjects. More information can be found on our website.

APPLICATION PROCESS: Successful applicants will be required to attend a 1 day assessment centre at our head office in London.

A new and alternative route into teaching and to QTS.
We are an organisation that believes in the power of education and of schools to transform the lives and therefore life chances of young people. For many of these young people, education is the only legitimate route to a successful and fulfilling adult life.
Teaching is the key to unlock the door into a world that many young people have never thought of entering; a world where adults are trusted role models who inspire, believe in, understand and value the perspective, the ideas and the experiences that are brought to the table.
Teaching is our passion. Teaching is our heritage. Teaching is our vocation.

- The route is fully paid.
- There is no cost to graduates.
- The route is quality assured and certified by a UEL, a top London University (you will gain QTS).
- The route takes 2 years. Year 1 as a graduate Teaching assistant. Year 2 as an unqualified teacher.
- The route is assessment only.
- The route includes a robust and bespoke training programme designed and led by an award winning, experienced head teacher and monitored by UEL.
- The route includes individual coaching, mentoring, nurturing and support from our Head-teacher supported by a team of professionals.
- The route includes placements in schools and final NQT placement.

Teaching matters to us. We want to welcome you into a profession that can and does change the world. Join us. Make a difference. Teach Forever!

United Teaching is the initial teacher training (ITT) scheme setting the standard for excellence in education for United Learning and our associated schools. The Scheme will develop, challenge and support you to become an outstanding teacher. We’ll enable you to make a positive and lasting impact on your students’ lives.

Our ITT scheme works in partnership with some of the UK’s most prestigious universities to offer high quality training and the opportunity to gain a PGCE as a well as Qualified Teacher status (QTS).

United Learning is comprised of academies and independent schools across the country, both primary and secondary, and trainees can apply to train in any of our schools. Training to be a teacher in one of our schools ensures the very best development opportunities and a varied, long-term career in teaching and school leadership.

United Teaching is a national school centred initial teacher training scheme (SCITT). This is a school based training scheme. We accept salaried trainees as well as non-salaried who receive bursaries from the National College of teaching and Leadership (NCTL). Trainees teach in placement schools over the course of a ten-month programme, with a reduced timetable. You have the option of attaining QTS on its own or alongside a PGCE from Goldsmiths, University of London.

You will be based in your main placement school for the full year. You can apply to train in any of our 50 schools across England – academies or independent schools; primaries, secondaries and all-through schools. We have particular ‘clusters’ of schools in inner and outer London, the South Coast, Surrey, Kent, Northamptonshire, Oxfordshire, Wiltshire, the West Midlands, Sheffield, Manchester, Salford, Hull and Carlisle.

The University of Cambridge is ranked as the number one teacher training provider in England (Good Teacher Training Guide 2017).

We have an exceptional reputation for delivering personalised, research-based PGCE courses led by experienced and highly-trained teacher educators, professionals and school-based mentors. We offer Primary and Secondary courses, rated ‘outstanding’ in all areas by OFSTED.

Our courses are taught in a long-established and fully integrated partnership with a broad range of schools and our trainees benefit from experiencing over 120 days in a variety of different educational settings including mainstream schools, special schools, museums and outdoor education settings.

Trainees at Cambridge are immersed in research and benefit greatly from the University’s national and international reputation and its place at the forefront of many educational initiatives. On top of this, trainees benefit from the Faculty’s outstanding and well-established partnerships, the strong ethos of care they experience and the extremely high quality of personal, professional and academic support.

The Cambridge PGCE leads to both QTS and an internationally recognised PGCE Masters level qualification, enabling progression to our part-time Master of Education course in just one year.

On completion of the PGCE, our trainees are always in demand from headteachers, and many of our former trainees go on to positions of school leadership very quickly.

The University of Oxford Postgraduate Certificate in Education course is designed, taught and assessed jointly between tutors in the university and teachers in local state secondary schools. The course combines extensive school experience with a rich programme of lectures, seminars and workshops in the University. We want you to develop not only your skills in the ‘craft’ of teaching and your knowledge of curriculum frameworks and policies, but also a critical understanding of research evidence and theories relating to teaching.

We pride ourselves on the flexible and personalized experience that we are able to offer you. You will be assigned university-based tutors and school-based mentors to monitor your progress on the course and to guide your learning. Course tutors have extensive experience both as school teachers and as Teacher Educators.

This PGCE course offers you the opportunity to train to teach the 11-19 age range in one of the following subjects:

- English
- Geography
- History
- Mathematics
- Modern Languages: French, German, Spanish, European Language with Mandarin
- Religious Education
- Science: Biology, Chemistry, Physics

We also work with Wokingham Secondary Federation, to provide places on the School Direct scheme for Religious Education.

This full time, one year programme is assessed as a Masters level course. Interns who complete the course successfully are also recommended for Qualified Teacher Status.

Founded in 1615, Wilson’s School is a leading boys’ grammar school in Wallington, South London. The Ofsted Outstanding school educates just over 1,100 pupils, with entry by academic selection based on performance in an entrance examination alone.

The school consistently sits at the top of league tables for both GCSE and A Level results and performs much more strongly than the vast majority of independent schools. Our friendly and welcoming staff enjoy teaching highly able, motivated and well behaved young men. Almost all go on to study degree courses in a full range of subjects at either Oxbridge or Russell Group universities.

The school, rated by The Telegraph as one of the top 10 in the country, also has a vibrant co-curricular life. Sport and music are of a very high standard, but there is a huge range of activity beyond the classroom from our CCF, to chess and a whole range of smaller societies.

We are always looking for talented graduates, NQTs and experienced teachers to join our staff. We have an excellent record of developing outstanding teachers and preparing staff for Senior Leadership.

Key staff benefits include:
- Excellent mentoring and pedagogical development – including training graduates so that they have the opportunity to gain QTS without incurring the fees associated with a PGCE
- A culture of rapid promotion for talented staff
- Relocation expenses
- Easy access to central London
- Extensive parking on site for free
- Access to sports facilities
- Membership of the Teachers’ Pension Scheme (TPS)
- Staff accommodation may be available

We would be delighted to speak further and indeed for you to visit us so that you can see how fulfilling teaching at Wilson’s can be.
