This fair has the aim of introducing you to a wide range of opportunities within the legal profession. In addition to representatives from Barristers’ Chambers, and Solicitors’ Practices (including International, City, and Regional firms), you will find a variety other organisations, including the major institutions that provide professional legal training.

This, then, is a golden opportunity for you to meet and talk to lawyers, trainees, pupils, other legal professionals, recruitment managers, and course tutors. They are coming because they want to introduce you to their organisations and discuss about what they offer in the way of training and legal work, and to encourage good applicants to apply. Many attending are Oxford graduates themselves.

LOOK THROUGH THIS BOOKLET

This fair has more employers and organisations than you are likely to be able to engage with even if you wanted to. Think first about who you want to talk to, and what topics you should raise.

We advise strongly that you read the programme entry for an organisation before you talk to its representatives.

As in all recruitment activities - discussion is a two-way process. You are assessing them, but employers are assessing you too, and may retain that information. Therefore do think about the impression you are creating by your approach, and questions, in particular your opening one.

TALK TO A CAREERS ADVISER

Careers Advisers will be present throughout the day at the Careers Service stand (at the top of the stairs) to help you with any careers issues that you may wish to discuss.

TOP TIPS

- Dress smartly – but you don’t have to wear a suit.
- Plan whom you want to see, but then expand and widen your contacts.
- Prepare some questions, and enter discussion.
- Take a breather between conversations.
- Make notes after each discussion – including the names of anyone you speak to.
- Don’t just pick up brochures and freebies!
ASK QUESTIONS
If you focus around some or all of these topics with recruiters, then your discussions should prove helpful:

- Nature of the work and its attractions
- Particular strengths of the organisation
- Likely developments for their kind of work
- Their current & future recruitment targets
- Selection criteria & methods of recruitment
- Ongoing training and supervision
- Opportunities for developing specialisations, international movement, etc
- Work experience (vacation schemes) opportunities, and Open Days
- Policies about choice of institutions for GDL, LPC or BPTC (BVC) courses
- Grants towards training costs

But do please think about the questions you may have for the Course Providers too; it’s not often you have the chance to talk to so many in one place!

NOTE FOR STUDENTS WITH INTERNATIONAL LEGAL QUALIFICATIONS OR SUBSTANTIAL LEGAL WORK EXPERIENCE
The majority of the firms attending will be focused on promoting their training contract opportunities for their London/UK offices and will consequently staff their stand with members of their UK based graduate recruitment teams and not their lateral hires recruitment teams.

However, this fair is still a great opportunity to engage with these firms and to find out about them in more detail and possibly to discover the key contacts you would need to approach if you are considering working at an “experienced hire” level in a firm, or in an alternative location.

Pre-fair talks

10:00-11:00 | Alumni @ the Law Fair.

▶ LOCATION: England – London
▶ DETAILS OF VACATION SCHEMES: Life with us doesn't mean joining just another corporate law firm. Because yes, we're big with prestigious clients, but we're also down to earth. We're commercial, but approachable. We'll give you the training you need to find your feet, but also the responsibility you need to tackle complex work quickly. As an elite, global law firm, we work on high profile deals. But our culture isn't elitist. It's anything but. This is your opportunity to discover who we are and what we do. To experience our friendly, welcoming culture. To ask questions. And to get invaluable hints and tips before you apply to any of our schemes – or for a Training Contract. During the day, you'll meet our trainees, lawyers and partners. They'll fill you in on what it's like to work here. How it feels to be part of a global firm that's at the cutting-edge of corporate law. If you like what you hear, this could be the start of an exciting career journey with us. Not least because our open days are a great stepping stone when it comes to making a formal application.

It’s why we’re so proud to be an early adopter of the UN’s push to promote equality for lesbian, gay, bi, trans and intersex people in the workplace and beyond. And why we were ranked 11th in 2018’s Stonewall Workplace Equality Index in the UK. ► DETAILS OF MINI-PUPILLAGES: Our aim in offering mini-pupillages at Essex Court Chambers is to provide prospective applicants for pupillage with an introduction to a busy and successful Commercial Chambers. We want you to be able to experience the kind of work that we do and the ethos and atmosphere of Chambers, so that you can get a sense of whether you would enjoy working here.

Mini-pupillages do not form part of our pupillage selection procedure and will not include any formal assessments. However, our experience is that a mini-pupillage with us provides an invaluable opportunity for people applying for pupillage to meet members of Chambers and find out more about the work we do; the process is more about you finding out about us than it is about us finding out about you. We therefore strongly encourage anyone who is seriously considering applying for pupillage here to apply for a mini-pupillage too. In order to make mini-pupillages as useful as possible, we focus on providing a limited number (about 25) between January and July each year. We offer mini-pupillages of between 1 and 2 days at the applicant’s option. During their time in Chambers, mini-pupils will usually spend time with at least two members of Chambers so that they can see a variety of work at different levels. If a mini-pupil wishes to experience a specific area of our expertise, we will do our best to accommodate this.

We will reimburse mini-pupils for their reasonable travel and accommodation expenses. This is to ensure that no one is deterred from applying for mini-pupillage with us by reason of their location or financial circumstances.

The window for applications for the Mini Pupillage Programme 2020 will be open from October 2019, please go to our website to apply.

The Bar Council – the representative body for all barristers – and the Inns of Court have teamed up to inform students about opportunities at the Bar.

Non-law graduates will need to take the GDL, while both law and non-law graduates must take the Bar Professional Training Course. Scholarships for these courses are available from the Inns and from course providers. The Inns offer a total of £5 million for scholarships each year, and awards range from £500 to £19,000. There are some changes to the qualification process for the Bar from 2020, so please do see the Bar Standards Board website (below) for further information.

All students wishing to become a barrister will need to undertake pupillage, which is a form of ‘on-the-job’ training, split into a non-practising period and a practising period. Pupillage has a highly competitive application process, so you should be as proactive as possible to give yourself the best possible chance of success: seek out mini-pupillages (available opportunities are posted on the Chambers Student Guide) and work experience, undertake court visits, and pursue public speaking or debating opportunities. The Bar Council also holds a Pupillage Fair in Autumn of each year, to enable students to network with pupillage providers and barristers from a wide range of practice areas.

Additionally, there are plenty of opportunities offered by the Inns – you must be a member of an Inn before you can qualify as a barrister – so do browse their websites for events.

ABOUT US: The work of government lawyers is interesting, varied, challenging and often headline news.

Whether the government is creating new laws, helping to develop new policies, buying goods and services or defending its decisions in court, it needs significant levels of legal advice on a wide range of complex issues.

To carry out this work, the government needs its own lawyers and legal trainees who understand its business.
