NEVER NOT PUTTING PEOPLE FIRST.
NEVER NOT NEWTON.

Whatever you do as a graduate at Newton, you’ll have a positive impact on people’s lives. Take one recent adult social care programme that transformed the way older people are cared for. As well as reducing the time they spend in hospital and supporting them to live at home for as long as possible, we saved the council over £2m each year.

WELCOME TO THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY CAREERS FAIR

This event, organised by the Careers Service, offers you the opportunity to find out about a variety of different career options across a wide range of employment sectors.

You will be able to meet a number of major recruiters keen to attract students and graduates to their organisation, compare different organisations and find out about graduate and work experience opportunities. Not all the recruiters participating in this event are giving a presentation in Oxford this year, so this may be your only chance to meet them informally.

Whether you know precisely what you want for your future career, you are still deciding, or you are just starting to think about careers - this is your chance to find out more.

Top tips

Use this booklet to plan your Fair tactics:

- Check who is attending and read their booklet entry before you speak to them.
- Plan some questions to ask e.g. what are the pros and cons of their work? Or, what tips can they give you to increase your chances of being selected for work experience or employment?
- Be keen and attentive – first impressions count!
- Talk to as many people as you can.
- Remember to record who you spoke to and key points of your conversations.
Pre-fair talks

At Appian, what we do is exactly who we are: our unique low-code software is a product of our unique people. We are building a community of generosity, innovation, and free-thinking to bring the best ideas out of the best team. Appian employees, or "Appianites" (as we call them), are passionate about challenging the status quo and improving the world through great software. We work in small, agile and collaborative teams who embody generosity of spirit and have an insatiable desire to learn. Our approach gives individuals greater ownership and input into decisions and makes for a more efficient and happier workplace.

Founded in 1999, Appian celebrates its 20th anniversary of building our campus recruitment program to the UK and Australia! Approximately 1/3 of our US-based workforce has come from university, and we will continue to build our international offices the same way. Globally, we are just over 1000 total employees, with 70 of them in our London headquarters.

We're offering a fantastic opportunity for university graduates: Associate Consultant. As an Associate Consultant, you'll build and deploy web-based applications on the Appian platform to support our customers’ business strategies. You're an expert on our software; from implementing the first business process management application to scaling up the program across the enterprise, you will bring our low-code platform to life.

Ark Teacher Training is part of Ark, an international education charity which aims to give every young person a great education and real choices in life. Ark Teacher Training exists to ensure all children, regardless of their background, have access to a high-quality education. We do this by recruiting bright, motivated graduates and training them to become great teachers in a school in our network. Our two-year programme incorporates gaining a PGCE qualification and QTS in the first year, with a comprehensive NQT programme in the second. All our trainees are supported through our rigorous programme by a strong network of experienced educators. In January 2017, our training was rated as 'outstanding' in all areas by Ofsted.

Locations: England – London, South East, West Midlands

Vacancies: We are looking for trainee teachers in Maths, Science, Geography, English, MFL, RE, DT, Music, History and PE. We work with over 40 schools in 4 locations across the UK; Birmingham, Hastings, London and Portsmouth.

Application Process:
- Two online tests to complete; a subject knowledge test and a situational judgement assessment.
- First stage assessment consists of a pre-prepared presentation and an interview.
- Final stage assessment takes place in a school where you will deliver a short lesson.
- Our applications run on a rolling basis with the final deadline in June.

Training:
- Two-week summer school to introduce you to the programme and the principles of great teaching.
- Weekly training sessions with your fellow trainees focusing on a key part of your teaching such as behaviour management or curriculum.
- An in-school coach who you will work with you every week to plan lessons, observe your teaching and offer immediate tailored feedback.

Email: hannah.plimmer@arkonline.org

Phone: 02031166353

Recruitment Criteria: We look for trainees who...
- have a grade C or above in Maths and English language GCSE
- hold (or will hold) an undergraduate Bachelor’s degree.
- have a degree or A level in the subject you want to teach.
- have the right to live and work in the UK.
- do not currently hold Qualified Teacher Status.
This is your opportunity to join Baillie Gifford, an investment management partnership established over 100 years ago. Today, with in excess of £200 billion under management and more than 700 clients across the globe, we have over 1,200 employees working at our head office in Edinburgh. Do you have the curiosity to explore new possibilities and the desire to create solutions? Then we’d like to meet you.

www.bailliegifford.com

► LOCATIONS: Scotland

► VACANCIES: Investment Research (6-8)
Imagine a role where your creativity is held in higher esteem than your numeracy skills. A position where it’s your curiosity that counts and your potential is key. This is Investment Research at Baillie Gifford.

Business Operations (4)
We’re looking for people who always strive to make things better. Those people who think good, isn’t good enough. That is what you need to thrive in Business Operations. Join our two-year rotational programme for your chance to delve into the innermost workings of a global investment management business.

Accountancy (3)
This new programme is the chance to do things differently. Instead of choosing a specialism from the outset, you’ll rotate through five different departments, giving you the opportunity to experience a variety of roles while studying for your CA qualification.

► INTERNSHIPS: Business Operations Summer Placements (10).
Spend between 8 – 12 weeks immersing yourself in one of the diverse operational functions that underpin our business. Gain real-world experience, work on live projects and boost your future prospects.

► RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: Graduate Programmes: Investment Research: 2.1 in any degree discipline (applications from humanities, social sciences, engineering and science subjects encouraged). Postgraduate applications welcome.

Business Operations: 2.1 in any degree discipline.

Wherever you are in the world, on any given day you are likely to see, hear or read journalism from graduates of City’s Department of Journalism. Each year hundreds of people from diverse backgrounds apply to us who want the best education to enable them to get a great job in the media.

Here at City, we provide an intense and highly focused education to help you acquire the up-to-date journalism skills needed to enter your chosen area of the media. We have nine MA courses all tailored to your needs in online, data, broadcast and print journalism. And alongside the journalism skills, we will push you intellectually during your time with us.

City offers the opportunity to study at a celebrated journalism school, in one of the world’s media capitals with amazing opportunities to meet world famous journalists and join our global network of alumni.

www.city.ac.uk

► LOCATIONS: England - London
► RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: City, University of London has a wide variety of Journalism specialisms at postgraduate level, for each programme there may be specific requirements so we encourage you to check before you apply.

The academic requirement for all postgraduate Journalism courses is: an upper second class honours degree or the equivalent from an international institution.

As our courses are competitive we also ask for you to demonstrate a hunger to be a journalist through relevant work experience. This may be paid work, an internship, student journalism in an academic institution, freelance work, or a combination of these.

All complete applications will be considered, many of our programmes require an interview so shortlisted applicants will be invited to attend an open day and interview at the institution.

► APPLICATION PROCESS: We accept applications online via our website from October each year. Places can be competitive and we interview on a first come first serve basis, so we encourage people to apply early where possible. If you are shortlisted you will be asked to come to our campus to have an interview with some of our members of staff and meet other candidates and current students. Before application we would encourage a visit to our postgraduate open evenings so you can meet our staff and students, hear more about the course and see where you could be studying. These are held in November, February and June, please check our website for more details.

Register with Get into Teaching and our dedicated Teacher Training Advice service will give you free support and advice on how you can get into teaching. We’ll help you with everything from keeping you updated with the latest information on financial support, arranging school experience, to preparing a strong application to teacher training.

► LOCATIONS: Nationwide
► VACANCIES: National postgraduate Initial Teacher Training courses.
► INTERNSHIPS: With Teaching Internships, you’ll be able to experience the teaching profession, gain new skills and be paid £300 per week for your time. So, if you’re an undergraduate on a STEM related degree and are interested in teaching secondary maths or physics, then the Teaching Internship programme could be for you.

The programme takes place in schools across England. You’ll get the opportunity to experience a range of activities to help you get a feel for school life including:
• classroom experience, which could include: assisting with lessons and providing subject support to pupils.
• shadowing experienced teachers and observing lessons, followed by a chance to jointly plan and deliver lessons.
• one-to-one guidance from outstanding classroom teachers.
• opportunities to network with qualified subject specialists.

You’ll need to apply directly to participating schools and be an undergraduate in your penultimate year of a STEM related degree. In some circumstances, applications from STEM students in other years may also be considered.

To find out if you meet the eligibility criteria, check with participating schools before submitting your application.

To get the best chance of succeeding in your application, register with us for support from our teaching experts.

► WORK EXPERIENCE: Getting some classroom experience can help you to decide whether teaching is right for you - it could also strengthen your application. Don't worry if you can't find any school experience during the summer holidays, prior school experience isn't a mandatory requirement. Register with us and our free Teacher Training Adviser service will support you with your application to get a place for this September.

► RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: As a good teacher, you’ll always be in demand. Teaching welcomes talented people from all backgrounds and degrees. Teaching is a professional career, where your degree and knowledge really counts and allows you to develop in the areas that you are most passionate about.

► APPLICATION PROCESS: Application varies dependant on course provider.

Haileybury

Haileybury is an outstanding British independent co-educational boarding school. We offer modern boarding and day provision for eight hundred and fifty boys and girls aged 11–18. Established in 1862, we are situated on a glorious, historic 500-acre campus in Hertfordshire, just 20 miles north of London and 35 miles south of Cambridge.

Ours is a happy, purposeful and tight-knit community where more than 90% of the teaching staff live in College accommodation, either on campus or within walking distance of our beautiful site. This helps create a unique atmosphere in which to work. We focus on creating a warm, nurturing environment which is particularly evident in the Lower School, a “school within a school” for Years 7 and 8, which includes its own Boarding House, Highfield. Boarders and day pupils join one of 12 houses when they enter the main school (Years 9 to 13). This creates strong “family” groups of about 60 pupils per House. An appreciation of the wider life of a seven-day-a-week boarding school is a prerequisite for a successful career at Haileybury, along with a willingness to immerse oneself in the boarding and co-curricular programme. The three aspects to every full-time teaching role are: teaching, tutoring in a Boarding House and involvement in co-curricular activities. Teaching staff are also expected to attend Chapel services.

• The School provides a welcoming, vibrant community whether you are a young, single NQT or a more established professional with or without a family.
• The School puts great emphasis on excellent CPD and career development opportunities with regular internal training, and opportunities to pursue further training outside of the School.

Frontline School and St Helen and St Katharine

Headington is an exciting place to be and to work. As a leading school in one of the world’s most famous cities, we are very fortunate to be able to attract top calibre staff in all areas of school. In return, we are a forward-thinking employer and encourage all staff to develop their talents. Once in post there are opportunities at all levels for CPD, whether that be working towards a PGCE or gaining a Masters. We also encourage staff to broaden their experience, both internally and externally. As a large successful school there are lots of opportunities for career progression within Headington; equally we know that good staff will hone their talents and sometimes move on to further promotions. Oxford and the surrounding areas are wonderful places to live and work and we are blessed with wonderful green spaces and fantastic facilities here in school, just a mile from the heart of our beautiful city. St Helen and St Katharine is one of the leading girls’ schools in the country and the whole community is justifiably proud of a tradition of high aspiration and academic achievement. We enjoy significant academic success each year, so much of which is due to our teachers’ ambition, passion and willingness to go above and beyond for each student.

The range of training and professional development opportunities we support is enormously diverse. We have for example helped sponsor staff through their PGCE or Masters as well as NVQs in Hospitality and Catering; offered managers coaching training; and sent aspiring leaders on ISQM, the HMC/GSA accredited academic management programme, to name a few. Our love of learning extends beyond the teaching of the curriculum. We are fiercely proud of the success of our staff, we understand how much they contribute to the success of our students and are committed to seeing them thrive as professionals in their field.

Hurstpierpoint College

Graduates are required to join our 3 year training programme from September 2021 and be a part of Hurstpierpoint College, an independent day and boarding school in West Sussex, just north of Brighton. With over 1,000 pupils aged 4 to 18, the school has nearly doubled in size over the last ten years and made huge progress academically as well as in other areas. Key to our success has been excellent staff. The school has made a point of recruiting and training individuals with the potential to be outstanding teachers straight from university. Teach Hurst trainees are well supported and provided with excellent mentoring. Over the three years not only have they become qualified and expert practitioners, they have also had their PGCE fees paid by the school, received a salary and, if required, accommodation as well.

Jacari

Jacari is an Oxford-based educational charity offering free home tutoring for disadvantaged local children who have English as an additional language. We recruit student volunteers from Oxford and Brookes universities to act as 1–1 tutors, visiting their pupil’s home once per week during term time to deliver fun, informal English lessons. Volunteers receive informal training and are supported throughout by a full-time Coordinator, as well as a dedicated student committee. We also run regular teaching workshops, volunteer socials, and fun events for tutors to bring pupils and their families along to. This role is perfect for anyone who enjoys working with children, speaks another language, or wants to develop their teaching/employability skills. Coordinator role: We are also looking to recruit a new full-time Coordinator (or two part-time Coordinators), starting in December 2019. This is a challenging, yet rewarding role, suitable for anyone who is highly organised and passionate about promoting educational equality. It provides a uniquely flexible entry point into the not-for-profit sector, requiring candidates to take on various aspects of running a charity. It is therefore an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in working in the not-for-profit sector or in a position of leadership/operational management. As the only member of staff, the Coordinator is vital to the operation of the charity and must be highly motivated. They will be in charge of running the day-to-day activity of the charity, as well as providing a contact point for all volunteers, parents and schools. The Coordinator works alone in our Turl Street office, but is supported by a board of Trustees, as well as the Coordinator of our sister charity, Jacari Bristol.

You don’t need any experience – just an interest in technology and be willing to take on big challenges! You will be welcomed and making a recognised contribution from day one! You will be made to feel part of a team, where you will learn your role directly from intelligent like-minded supportive peers. Despite now having over 800 employees, Metaswitch still manages to retain the small company feel.

➤ INTERNSHIPS: ... the same as Graduates but only for a minimum of 8 weeks!

➤ RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: You will have a great academic background (including a good degree in any subject) and be looking to build your career in a company full of really smart people who love solving problems and working together in a collaborative and innovative environment.

➤ APPLICATION PROCESS: Our application process is as simple as submitting your CV to www.metaswitch.com/careers or alternatively you can send your CV over to emma.watts@metaswitch.com.

➤ TRAINING: From day one, you will be assigned real tasks working on the design and development of complex software. A training program will be tailored for you and continue throughout your career with us. While you can develop your career in a technical role, you are also free to explore other paths within our flexible, open organisation.

➤ DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION: We are committed to diversity and inclusion. We want Metaswitch to be a place where anyone will feel welcome, encouraged and supported to be the best they can be. We believe diversity makes us stronger, more innovative and more successful. This commitment starts with our CEO and Board of Directors, and we expect our leaders and every employee to help create and sustain an inclusive environment.

➤ LOCATIONS: England – London, South East

➤ VACANCIES: Product Manager (x5)

As a Product Manager, you’ll join our management team and take ownership of a category of products, running it like a mini business within our business. From assessing future marketing, spending and profit, to designing adverts, you’ll take responsibility for every step of the process to build your strategy. Unlike typical graduate schemes, you’ll get started straight away and be actively involved in: Marketing, Advertising, Product Development and Sourcing, and Operations and Customer Management. You will be responsible for the complete lifecycle of your product range from concept to end of life. This is a management position. There are excellent growth opportunities for the successful candidate. We support and encourage staff members to achieve their full potential.

➤ INTERNSHIPS: If you’re a business-minded, intelligent and motivated penultimate year student, this could be the perfect opportunity to get meaningful experience. Our paid internships offer variety and responsibility that you won’t find in many other student roles. For three months over the summer, we can offer you this unique chance to experience the product management role, including:

• Product development and sourcing.
• Liaising with suppliers.
• Writing marketing plans.
• Writing copy for adverts and mailings.
• Analysing marketing results and choosing next steps.
• Tackling projects within various areas of the business.

➤ RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: Any degree, 2:1 or above.

➤ APPLICATION PROCESS: E-mail cover letter and CV to: uk.recruitment@mbi-inc.co.uk

FAO: HR Department

➤ TRAINING: Training is primarily on-the-job, but we do offer a Study Package. Subject to certain conditions, we offer you the opportunity to study a professional qualification to improve your job performance and career development.

Milltown Partners is a global advisory firm that works with influential organisations and individuals on the communications and public policy challenges that define their reputations.

Our clients are leaders in their field: groundbreaking technology companies and their founders; global businesses and their CEOs; and prominent institutions and their leaders.

We are a team of 70, with offices in London and San Francisco. We are looking to recruit talented people who are passionate about current affairs, technology and the media.

LOCATIONS: England – London

VACANCIES: Communications Analyst Role

Analysts at Milltown Partners drive our work forward, providing research, analysis and strategic advice to clients. They produce high quality communications materials, and become experts in identifying what might impact upon their clients’ reputations.

Day to day work includes:
- Developing an understanding of the client and their context through research;
- Assessing the industry landscape, and ultimately using creativity and curiosity to find the insights that will help to identify the right communications strategy;
- Advising clients, driving the execution process and helping to handle project management;
- Writing and contributing crucial insights to strategy documents; and
- Monitoring and analysing media coverage.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: Skills and experience required:
- An outstanding academic background;
- Exceptional verbal and written communication skills;
- An obsession with current affairs;
- Strong analytical and research skills; and
- Willingness to take on new and varied challenges.

Useful but not essential: Proven interest in the practice of PR and communications.

APPLICATION PROCESS: All candidates should send a CV and covering letter outlining their interest and suitability for the role to Fathima Leya at joinus@milltownpartners.com

Candidates will then progress through four rounds of interviews, including a research assignment.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION: Milltown Partners is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive environment for all employees.

Miri Growth

We’re Miri, a performance marketing agency that works to find new users for our clients’ mobile apps by advertising on Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and Google. We’re looking for a User Acquisition Manager to join our ranks, allowing us to support new clients and help us grow as an agency. This is the perfect role for a University Graduate looking to develop their skills and jump straight into the world of Analytics and Digital Marketing.

A bit about us:
- we’re a team of 10 comprised of 4 marketers and 4 designers.
- we’re based in a shared office space at the centre of Shoreditch.
- we’ve worked with some of the most exciting mobile app and game developers, including Ubisoft, Two Dots, Peak and 8fit.
- we’re a finalist App Marketing Agency of the Year 2018.

LOCATIONS: England – London

VACANCIES: 5 Performance Marketing Managers

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: Miri Growth accepts applications from undergraduate and graduate students. We are looking for people with an analytical background but who are also able to think creatively about ads and present both numbers and ideas to our clients.

APPLICATION PROCESS: The deadline to apply for the role is November 31st for a start in the fall of 2020. We are also accepting applications for other currently open positions.

TRAINING: Our goal is to train excellent digital marketers specialized in mobile performance marketing. We are looking to teach people how to excel in creative and analytical tasks as well as client relationships.

As such, we offer training in:
- Facebook, Snapchat and Google performance campaign strategies.
- Data analytics and trend analysis in Excel
- Python Programming (if of interest to the candidate) for automation.
- Presentation and communication skills.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION: As an employer, we are committed to promoting equality of opportunity and eliminating discrimination in the workplace.

News Associates is officially the UK's number one NCTJ journalism school. You'll find our trainees making their mark on the front pages of our national and regional newspapers, presenting and reporting on the BBC and Sky News, working internationally for some of the most respected names in journalism from Reuters to Agence France Presse to CNN and the Wall Street Journal and producing cutting-edge multimedia features for VICE and The Huffington Post.

LOCATIONS: England – London, North West

VACANCIES: We offer full-time and part-time NCTJ-accredited news and sports journalism courses in London and Manchester. We also run monthly free journalism workshops.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: We are looking for graduates from all disciplines with a passion for journalism and enough work experience that they are sure this is the career for them.

APPLICATION PROCESS: We have a three-stage application process for all of our courses. The initial stage is a short form on the website, this is followed up with a longer admissions sheet which is assessed by our training team. If successful, you will be invited in for an entrance exam and an interview. Upon passing the entrance exam and impressing in interview you will be offered a place to study with us.

TRAINING: We teach the Level 3 NCTJ Diploma in Multimedia Journalism and we strive to ensure everyone achieves the gold-standard qualification (A–C in all modules and 100wpm shorthand).

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION: We have lots of initiatives in place to help improve diversity in the newsroom. Working in conjunction with the Sports Journalists’ Association, every year we offer one budding sports journalist a fully-funded place on our sports journalism course with a four-month paid internship at our sister company Sportsbeat at the conclusion of their studies. News Associates also offered a full bursary for our fast-track course to the latest recipient of the Daily Mail Stephen Lawrence Scholarship aimed at promoting diversity in journalism. We also teamed up with Yahoo News UK to train talented young individuals as part of their scheme in conjunction with the Media Trust to increase diversity in their newsroom. We also regularly help people with their application for the Journalism Diversity Fund.

NNHEHS is one of London’s leading independent day schools, and one of the oldest of the 25 schools which make up the Girls’ Day School Trust (GDST). We are an academically selective school and our pupils are ambitious, bright, enthusiastic and eager to learn.

As an independent school we can welcome new graduates straight out of university with no prior teacher training.

How it works:
On joining the School, we will pay for you to enrol on to a PGCE programme, delivered by a local university which will enable you to work towards QTS whilst being fully involved in the life of the School.
You will have a dedicated and experienced subject mentor in your department who will guide you through every element of teaching, from your first lesson through to preparing girls for Oxbridge and medical interviews.
You will be given additional time within the week to prepare, develop and learn from other staff.
The School also offers its own a tailor-made induction programme for those new to the profession which gives you an excellent opportunity for discussion with other teachers. For more information on the school and our teaching vacancies, please visit our website.

LOCATIONS: England - London

WORK EXPERIENCE: Those interested in learning more about teaching in the independent sector are encouraged to get in touch as we will do our best to accommodate visit days where possible.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: All applicants for teaching posts must hold a minimum of a bachelor’s degree at the time of taking up the post. Applications are accepted from those still in their final year of study.

TRAINING: Entrants to the profession are offered a fully funded PGCE and subsequent NQT accreditation.

Office for National Statistics

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) is the UK’s National Institute and one of the largest producers of official statistics. We produce data on a range of key economic, social and demographic topics. ONS is an exciting place to work and provides the opportunity to apply theory to a range of practical issues. You could be working closely with analysts in other Government Departments such as HM Treasury and the Bank of England.

Here at the Office for National Statistics, people count in more ways than one. Because, while crunching the numbers that shape the big decisions in our society and economy, we’re looking after their interests, helping them to maintain a good work / life balance and investing in their skills and abilities with full training and development.

VACANCIES: Various ongoing opportunities for Statisticians, Economists, Social and Operational Researchers.

WORK EXPERIENCE: The Government Economic Service (GES) summer vacation placement scheme is aimed at economics students who are considering a career in the GES after graduation. Placements last between 6 and 12 weeks due to the nature of work, placements are not open to first year undergraduates.

TRAINING: Variety of opportunities ranging from Economic Group Briefing to programming skills such as Python, R etc. Training will be tailored according to the needs of both the business area and the individual and students should take advantage of what is offered to them as well as seeking out opportunities for development. There may also be the opportunity to visit other government departments and if students come through the GES route, they will be part of a wider GES network.

Oxfordshire Teacher Training is an accredited provider of School Centred Initial Teacher Training. We have been running our highly successful School Direct programmes since 2013 and in that time have trained hundreds of fantastic teachers in Oxfordshire schools. In December 2017 we were graded Outstanding in all areas in our first Ofsted ITT inspection and we are so pleased to see that the report reflects our commitment, ethos and passion for education and improving young people’s lives.

We offer a wide range of high quality programmes across nursery, primary, special and secondary education which suit applicants of all backgrounds and circumstances. Our programmes all lead to Qualified Teacher Status – the professional qualification – and our Associate Teachers (trainees) also have the option to add a master’s level PGCE to their programme.

Oxfordshire Teacher Training is based at The Cherwell School in Oxford, the Lead School in our outstanding ITT partnership, and this is where the majority of the Central Training sessions take place. We work with a diverse group of schools across Oxfordshire and beyond, and so we can draw upon the expertise of these great schools and great teachers to enhance our programmes and your training.

Increasingly we are known for our personalised and flexible approach, the quality and coherence of our programmes and the bespoke support that we offer to everyone that we work with. Working with a large group of schools means that we can find the very best placement schools for each individual and tailor the training to match.

We invest money on behalf of private clients, trusts, charities, pension funds and collective investment schemes.

We exist to provide investment performance and service that put our clients first. Investing is not a game. A lot is at stake. Our successes and failures affect the lives of our clients. They are putting enormous trust in us; we see it as our duty to serve their best interests. Among other things, this means being frank about risks, open about mistakes, and transparent about what can go wrong.

At Ruffer look for people who believe in what we are trying to do – and who want to help us do it better. We offer three types of role within our graduate programme. An investment and client focused role in the Front Office, an analytical role in our Research team and a Technology role in our agile development teams. For those looking for internship opportunities, we offer a six week summer associate programme within either Front Office or Research and we also host insight days. For more information, please visit ruffer.co.uk.

For our graduate programme, the application process is simple. Our first round interviews are conducted on campus, followed by an assessment centre at our London office. Ruffer is a welcoming place. Somewhere you can play to your strengths and develop a fulfilling career. At Ruffer, who you know doesn’t matter, what you know is important, but the decisive factor is who you are.

LOCATIONS: England - London

VACANCIES: Opportunities available: Front Office, Research and Technology graduate programmes.

INTERNSHIPS: Internships: Summer Associate Programme available.

SIG

SIG is a global quantitative trading firm founded with an entrepreneurial mind-set and a rigorous analytical approach to decision making.

We commit our own capital to trade financial products around the world. Building virtually all of our own trading technology from scratch, we are leaders and innovators in high performance, low latency trading.

LOCATIONS: Europe

VACANCIES: THE QUANTITATIVE TRADER PROGRAMMES

SIG’s Quantitative Assistant Trader Internship and Graduate Programmes can be the start of a rewarding and challenging career in trading, as each programme serves as an entry route into a full-time trading position. Our Internship Programme welcomes students in their second and penultimate years of study, while the Graduate Programme is aimed at final years and graduates.

INTERNSHIPS: We offer internships and graduate opportunities.

APPLICATION PROCESS: We open our applications in early September and close in early December. SIG recruit on a rolling basis and strongly encourage early applications.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: We look for students with academic backgrounds in Mathematics, Physics, Actuarial Science, Engineering, Computer Science, Economics, and Finance, who are on track to achieve or have achieved a minimum grade of a 2.1.

TRAINING: During the internship you will:
• Work directly with our Quantitative Traders, learning how they make decisions and assess uncertainty in the markets.
• Learn how we make rational decisions by playing poker and mock trading games. Our traders go through similar thought processes while evaluating the expected value of a given trade and deciding how to price risk.
• Find out how we use game theory to hone our skills and apply them to complex financial markets.
• Participate in daily education where you will learn option theory and how to make positive expectancy decisions in the financial markets.
• Work on a specific trading desk and complete a project to help your desk tackle unsolved, live/real-life problems (like analysing trade data, improving efficiency, or creating new tools for traders).
• Develop new skills in the technology tools our Quantitative Traders use, including Python, SQL, and VBA.

Successful interns will be offered a returning role as a Quantitative Assistant Trader. Our internship is held at our Dublin office over 10 weeks in the summer.

Softwire makes innovative, high quality software for a range of clients including the BBC and Google DeepMind. Our brilliant working environment, friendly attitude and flexible approach has put us in the top 25 of The Sunday Times Best Small Companies List for the past nine years.

Our team is made up of all sorts of people who share a passion for problem solving and a willingness to work together and get things done. We’re growing year on year and are looking for graduate software developers and interns who will grow with us, learning diverse technologies and pursuing the type of work they find most interesting.

► VACANCIES: We are looking for around 30 graduate software developers to start in London, Cambridge or Manchester.

We combine a relaxed and friendly environment with a superb all-round package including:
• London starting salary of £40,000 (£37,000 in Manchester; £38,500 in Cambridge).
• Annual bonus to further reward your contribution to the company’s success.
• Flexible working time and conditions, and no pressure to regularly work long hours.
• Lively and frequent social events and company outings.
► INTERNSHIPS: We offer up to 30 internship places in London each year, mostly over the summer but with other dates available too. Our internship programme is extremely popular with students, offering real-life, team-based software development work under the guidance of a dedicated mentor, and a salary of £2,000 per month. Around half of our interns go on to take up permanent employment after their studies.
► RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: We are seeking highly inquisitive people with raw talent and a passion for coding.

Hobbyist or academic experience of programming is desirable but not mandatory, and we accept applications from students of all disciplines
► APPLICATION PROCESS: There is no deadline for applications, but you will increase your chances significantly if you apply before 1st January for summer internships or permanent roles starting the following autumn.
► TRAINING: We provide full on-the-job training and support to our staff, all the way through their career.
► DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION: We recognise that software development can be a relatively non-diverse industry. We are committed to doing everything we can to make Softwire accessible and welcoming to everyone and have introduced initiatives to increase the number of employees from under-represented categories. In recent years, for example, we have grown the proportion of female developers that we hire from the national average, less than 20%, to over 40%.

Young people from disadvantaged backgrounds in this country are being let down by one of the most unfair education systems in the developed world, and the knock-on effect of this injustice lasts a lifetime. It’s a cycle we’re determined to break, but we need your help.

On our two-year Leadership Development Programme, we’ll support you to become a qualified teacher. And, by training on the job, you’ll quickly develop your skills and have an immediate impact on the lives of the young people who need you the most.

VACANCIES: Graduate Leadership Development Programme - over 100 places.

INTERNSHIPS: On our three undergraduate programmes – Taster, Insight and Brand Manager – you’ll develop your personal and professional skills, learn more about educational inequality, and start making a difference to the most disadvantaged young people in the country.

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: We accept applications from undergraduates and postgraduates.

To apply you will need a 2.1 degree or above (2.2 degrees will also be considered), a degree or A-levels that satisfy the curriculum areas we teach in and Grade C (or equivalent) in GCSE maths and English.

APPLICATION PROCESS: Our selection processes are clearly structured. You submit an application online and if successful are then invited to an assessment. We allocate roles to both our graduate programme and undergraduate internships on a first come first served basis so applications will close on filling positions.

TRAINING: On our graduate programme, participants will complete five weeks of training with Teach First at our Summer Institute during the summer before starting work in a school that September. Trainees gain a Post Graduate Diploma in Education and Leadership (PGDE) and become a fully qualified teacher.

The NHS has looked after people across the nation for over 70 years. We’re still going strong, however, we’re also going through an unprecedented period of change. The UK population is living longer, our services are needed more than ever, and we have to achieve efficiency savings of £20 billion over the next few years. It’s a huge challenge, and to help meet it, we’re taking a more collaborative and supportive approach. It also means we have to make sure need for health leaders is met and that they are trained and developed to raise the profile, performance and impact on health and social care in England.

Simon Stevens is Chief Executive of NHS England, and a GMTS alumni:

“As NHS managers we’re not just in the business of performance; as NHS leaders we’re in the business of change.”

Leadership consultant, Peter Drucker explains “There is nothing so useless as doing efficiently that which should not be done at all. That means constantly asking: why are we doing it like this? is there a better way?” As a GMTS Trainee you will help us to keep finding the better way.

LOCATIONS: Nationwide

VACANCIES: Graduate Management Training Scheme

RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: Please visit our website for entry level requirements to all our specialisms.

TRAINING: As a Trainee on the NHS Graduate Management Training Scheme you will be the road to developing the skills and confidence you need to lead our organisation through its transformation into an ever more efficient, successful and professional health care service. This is a multi-award winning Scheme, where you’ll benefit from mentoring, support and first class training from some of the most brilliant minds in and outside the NHS.

You’ll experience some truly life defining moments and be able to influence decisions that improve the lives of millions of people. And, after two years (or two and a half if you opt for finance), you’ll be ready to take your career further than you thought possible as you apply for senior NHS roles.

Future Academies is a growing family of secondary and primary schools in South Westminster, Shepherd’s Bush and Hertfordshire. We serve communities that are amongst the most deprived in the country but have the highest expectations of our students and what they can achieve. We are committed to providing them with a rigorous education in a well-disciplined but caring environment that will help them to compete on a level playing field with their more advantaged peers.

Our ITT professional training programme provides a robust and knowledge-rich approach to achieving QTS and a PGCE at an Ofsted ‘Outstanding’ SCITT. We were ranked as the top provider in London by the Good Teacher Training Guide and have well-established networks with top universities and expert speakers within the field of education. The programme has been designed to allow graduates the opportunity to take responsibility for a small number of their own classes from the start of the academic year, whilst receiving high-quality weekly mentoring and training. As the year progresses, trainees are given the opportunity to increase the number of classes they are responsible for tailored to each individual trainee.

As a trainee teacher, you may be eligible for a government bursary of up to £30,000. Alternatively, we are able to offer exceptional candidates with outstanding subject knowledge the Future Teach Scholarship, which offers a generous bursary of £29,000 and also waives the training fee of £9,250.

TVF Media is an umbrella media company with five core divisions: TVF International, TVF Communications, TVF Digital, TVF Central Operations, and the Institute of Art and Ideas. We create and convey new ideas in the most effective form, operating across a range of sectors including interactive digital media, medical communications, television programming, post-production, and the arts. We use and develop the latest media technology, the most talented people and the most advanced systems to inform, educate, inspire, and entertain.

Based in London, TVF Media operates worldwide, delivering projects and campaigns in more than twenty countries across the globe. All of our divisions are award-winning. Our clients range from Channel 4, the BBC and BAFTA award winning directors, to Pearson Education, the British Red Cross and Cambridge University Press.

► LOCATION: England – London
► VACANCIES: TVF Media recruit for some graduate roles on a rolling basis throughout the year. Roles that we regularly offer include:
  • Medical Communications Graduate Scheme (TVF Communications, 3–5 vacancies per year).
  • International Media Trainee (TVF International, 2–4 vacancies per year).
  • Business and Finance Analyst (TVF Central Operations, 1–2 vacancies per year).
We also recruit for a number of additional graduate roles on an ad hoc basis. Please check our website regularly for the latest vacancies.

► INTERNSHIPS: The Institute of Art and Ideas (IAI) recruits for Research Interns throughout the year. The IAI Research Internship will see candidates join one of our festival production desks in Arts, Science, Philosophy or Politics. Each desk is responsible for the programming and delivery of ideas for our annual festival HowTheLightGetsIn, and Interns will be trained and supervised by our existing team. This paid internship typically lasts for a period of circa three months, full-time.

► RECRUITMENT CRITERIA: TVF Media is happy to accept applications from both undergraduates and postgraduates. Successful candidates will have (or be on-track for) at least a 2.1 degree, usually in a subject relevant to the role to which they are applying.

► APPLICATION PROCESS: Applicants should apply online via the TVF Media website. Recruitment for most roles involves three rounds of interviews - a short and informal first round, a slightly longer second round, and a panel-style final round interview with senior management.

► TRAINING: Most of our graduate roles includes a built-in three-month training scheme, with training and short assessments taking place throughout. Our Graduate Schemes offer a slightly more intensive version of this training scheme, with additional training and assessment requirements.

The University of Oxford is engaged in the most ambitious fundraising effort ever undertaken by a European university. ‘Oxford Thinking’, the Campaign for the University of Oxford, seeks to raise funds in support of the University’s academic priorities:
• Supporting students and the life of the University
• Supporting academic staff and programmes
• Supporting infrastructure and buildings.

The Development Office (UODO) collaborates with colleagues throughout the collegiate University to support the Campaign and maintain high levels of giving to Oxford. Teams within UODO include fundraisers for the academic divisions, as well as the libraries, museums and collections, trusts and foundations, corporations, student support, and sport, together with prospect research, campaign communications, campaign relations, proposals, regular giving and legacies, Gift Registry, and the University-wide fundraising database, DARS. The University has three overseas offices with development and alumni responsibilities: the North American Office in New York, the Asia Office in Tokyo, and the China Office in Hong Kong.

UODO’s role is to help secure philanthropic support for the University’s agreed academic priorities. It also works in partnership with development and academic colleagues throughout the collegiate University, providing development resources to them, and building enduring relationships with the University’s supporters, which include alumni and non-alumni individuals, corporates, foundations and trusts. The engagement and involvement of academic and other colleagues in the process of building relationships towards philanthropic support is a critical part of effective fundraising.

Unlocked Graduates is a two year programme that is putting brilliant graduates and career changers at the heart of prison reform. At the moment, nearly half of all prisoners re-offend within a year of release, creating yet more victims, causing untold damage, and costing the UK more than £15bn. Our solution is a unique leadership programme where participants work as frontline prison officers while completing a fully-funded master’s degree in leadership. They support prisoners to turn their lives around, lead system change and develop the skills to excel no matter where they go in the future.

The problems facing prisons are some of the most complex in our society. Our graduates need to be ambitious problem solvers who are willing to hone their skills at the frontline while also thinking about the big picture. Gathering intelligence and using their negotiation skills whether on the landing or in the Governor’s office.

We provide a comprehensive package of benefits to all of our participants. As well as the skills and experience you’ll gain from working, you’ll receive the full support of an experienced Mentoring Prison Officer and career development opportunities with partner organisations such as KPMG and the Ministry of Justice.

When you’re working as a prison officer, no day is ever the same. Helping some of the most vulnerable and challenging people in society means always being prepared for new situations, and always ready to be an advocate, negotiator, diplomat and leader – all at the same time. You’ll develop your skills in leadership, communication, relationship-building, decision-making and resilience, and change lives while you do.

Following the two-year programme you’re free to decide whether to stay or leave the prison system. Either way, we’ll continue to support your development as part of a growing network of change-making alumni putting their new skills into action. Being a prison officer is about so much more than locking up – and with Unlocked Graduates, it can really open doors.
